THIRD MOTION TO EXTEND NISI PERIOD

The Plaintiffs in this matter respectfully move for an Order extending the nisi period allowed in this matter until January 20, 2009. The parties have been working to complete settlement documentation and some issues have emerged that have required revision to the initial settlement principles. The nisi deadline expires today. All matters are at this point agreed upon – final revised proposals being agreed today -- and all that is required is for an exchange of settlement documents. All lawyers have been diligent in documenting various proposals to resolve the case. The Plaintiffs believed that the documents may have been ready to be signed and the case dismissed today, but that did not occur. The case may be ready for dismissal any day this week. As of this writing, counsel for one of the parties is not available to receive emails. Therefore while this motion is not sent as assented, it is, obviously, not being met with opposition.
